Course Description

At various points over the last two decades, there has been reference to 'threats', 'crises', 'disasters' and 'emergencies' to describe specific occurrences, events and processes. We hear of, for example, the opioid crises, humanitarian crises, terrorist threats, and health emergencies. More recently, in January 2020, the World Health Organization declared an international public health emergency, advising that the novel coronavirus (COVID-19) could be stopped with significant detection, isolation and treating efforts. In March, the World Health Organization declared the outbreak a pandemic, followed by provinces across Canada declaring 'states of emergency'. The pandemic has brought into stark relief the borderless impact of many threats, as well as issues of control, regulation and response in the face of threat. Along with fears about our health, current protests suggest that the institutions that have been tasked with managing threats, and ensuring safety and protection, are instead sources of insecurity for many.

While words such as 'threat' and 'crisis' have meaning in everyday language, the application of these words also has legal and social implications and consequences. What are the implications for citizens when threats are identified? Emergencies are declared and formal measures or regulations are invoked? Do state powers change during these times? What are the implications for human rights when emergency legislation is invoked? We consider a variety of threats, crises and emergencies with a view to understanding the regulatory and social contexts that give rise to and address such declarations.

Course Objectives/Learning Outcomes

The objectives in this course are to:

1. Underscore the contexts within which threats, crises and emergencies operate;
2. Identify the factors correlated with naming ‘emergencies’, ‘crises’, and ‘threats’ and the regulatory implications of doing so.
3. Understand the variability in responses to emergencies and crises.

Course Format

This course is a hybrid course, involving both synchronous and asynchronous participation. Our class is scheduled for three hours, from 2-4:45 pm on Thursdays. Each week we will meet for a “live” session from 2:30-3:45 pm. These live sessions are accessible via Zoom and links are posted through D2L.

Learning Resources

Selected readings and their links are posted on D2L.

Learning Technologies and Requirements

To successfully engage in their learning experiences at the University of Calgary, students taking online, remote and blended courses are required to have reliable access to the following technology:

- A computer with a supported operating system, as well as the latest security, and malware updates;
- A current and updated web browser;
- Webcam (built-in or external);
- Microphone and speaker (built-in or external), or headset with microphone;

Methods of Assessment and Grading Weights

Evaluation for this course consists of class participation, in-class quizzes (40%) and a term project (60%).

1. “In-class” quizzes: During our weekly class time, specific questions will be provided to facilitate discussion for that particular day. In four of these classes, students will be concluding their discussions with a quiz that is based on the discussions of that day and previous weeks’ discussion and materials. (For example, Quiz #1 may include material from Week 1, 2 and 3; Quiz #2 may include material from Weeks 4, 5, and 6; Quiz #3 may include material from Weeks 7, 8, or 9; and Quiz #4 may include material for Weeks 10, 11, or 12). These quizzes will be limited in both time and word count unless explicit instruction is given otherwise. All quizzes are to be submitted through D2L.

Quiz dates are September 23, October 21, November 18 and December 9.

The value of each quiz is 10% for a total of 40% of your course grade. You will be given one hour to respond to these quizzes during our in-person sessions. Please see the note below regarding expectations during these quiz times.

2. Term Project: Term projects will consist of an in-depth examination of a specific crisis-related subject. Specifically, you will create either a podcast or a visual project (video). You may work on this project alone or with a partner(s) (partnerships are recommended when possible). If you are interested in working with someone else, I will facilitate putting people together depending on interests.

The topics you choose may vary widely. For example, you may want to examine: differential responses to the COVID pandemic; the pros and cons of safe injection sites; climate change denial; or the importance of power and how it figures into what is labelled a crisis. It is highly recommended that you discuss your project with the instructor in advance of the proposal due date. There are two required parts to the term project:

- A. Proposal: The project proposal is due November 4th. Proposals must include a description of your research focus (a research question, or what will you investigate in your podcast or video); a review of the literature/empirical work, a theoretical framework, and a justification for how your project fits the course objectives (why is this a relevant topic). Your proposal must also include a work plan (who is involved, what are they doing) and a project timeline. The proposal is worth 30% of your final grade. More information will be provided in class.
- B. Podcast or Video: Your project is due December 15th. The project is worth 30% of your final grade.

Evaluation	Due Date	Value
Quizzes	Sept. 23	10%
	Oct. 21	10%
	Nov. 18	10%
	Dec. 9	10%
Project Proposal	November 4 th	30%
Term Project	December 15th	30%
	Grade total:	100%

“In-class” quizzes: Please note that our “in-class” quizzes rely on students to conduct themselves according to the standards that they would while in an in-person classroom setting. You will have one hour from the time the quiz is provided to complete and resubmit the quiz. During the time the quiz is available, student engagement in any of the following behaviors may constitute academic misconduct:

- Collaboration between students (e.g., discussing questions, approaches to answers, suggestions of where to find relevant material in notes or texts) in any way (voice, text, chat, etc.) during the time that an assessment (quiz) is available
- Use of online materials not provided by the instructor during assessments.

Final Exam Information

There is no final exam for this course.

Grading Scale

Letter grades will be assigned and submitted to the registrar based on the following scale:

Absences and Deferrals

Students who miss class assessments (tests, participation activities, or other assignments) should inform their instructor as soon as possible. If the reason provided for the absence is acceptable, the instructor may decide that any arrangements made can take forms other than make-up tests or assignments. For example, the weight of a missed grade may be added to another assignment or test.

Deferred Final Exam Form: Please note that requests to defer a Registrar scheduled final exam are dealt with through the Registrar's Office. Further information can be found at:

<https://www.ucalgary.ca/registrar/exams/deferred-exams>

Deferred Term Work Form: Deferral of term work past the end of a term requires a form to be filled out by the student and submitted, along with any supporting documentation, to the instructor. The form is available at:

<https://live-ucalgary.ucalgary.ca/sites/default/files/teams/14/deferral-of-term-work-2020.pdf>

Once an extension date has been agreed between instructor and student, the instructor will email the form to the Faculty of Arts Program Information Centre (ascarts@ucalgary.ca) for approval by the Associate Dean.

Grade Reappraisal

Within two weeks of the date the exam/assignment is returned, students seeking reappraisal of examinations or assignments must submit a written response to the instructor explaining the basis for reconsideration of one's mark. The instructor will reconsider the grade assigned and will then book a time with the student to discuss his or her work and rationale. It should be noted that a reconsidered mark may be raised, lowered, or remain the same.

Handing in Papers, Assignments

1. All course work must be submitted online. The main Sociology Department office does not deal with any course-related matters. Please speak directly to your instructor.
2. Protection of Privacy: The Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy (FOIPP) legislation does not allow students to retrieve any course material from public places. Anything that requires handing back will be returned directly to the student via D2L or email. Private information related to the individual student is treated with the utmost regard by the faculty at the University of Calgary
3. Final grades are not posted by the Sociology Department. They are only available online.

Guidelines for Zoom Sessions

Zoom is a video conferencing program that will allow us to meet at specific times for a "live" video conference, so that we can have the opportunity to meet each other virtually and discuss relevant course topics as a learning community.

To help ensure Zoom sessions are private, do not share the Zoom link or password with others, or on any social media platforms. Zoom links and passwords are only intended for students registered in the course. Zoom recordings and materials presented in Zoom, including any teaching materials, must not be shared, distributed or published without the instructor's permission.

The use of video conferencing programs relies on participants to act ethically, honestly and with integrity; and in accordance with the principles of fairness, good faith, and respect (as per the Code of Conduct). When entering Zoom or other video conferencing sessions (such as MS Teams), you play a role in helping create an effective, safe and respectful learning environment. Please be mindful of how your behaviour in these sessions may affect others. Participants are required to use names officially associated with their UCID (legal or preferred names listed in the Student Centre) when engaging in these activities. Instructors/moderators can remove those whose names do not appear on class rosters. Non-compliance may be investigated under relevant University of Calgary conduct policies (e.g. Student Non-Academic Misconduct Policy). If participants have difficulties complying with this requirement, they should email the instructor of the class explaining why, so the instructor may consider whether to grant an exception, and on what terms. For more information on how to get the most out of your zoom sessions visit: <https://elearn.ucalgary.ca/guidelines-for-zoom/>.

If you are unable to attend a Zoom session, please contact your instructor to arrange an alternative activity for the missed session. Please be prepared, as best as you are able, to join class in a quiet space that will allow you to be fully present and engaged in Zoom sessions. Students will be advised by their instructor when they are expected to turn on their webcam (for group work, presentations, etc.).

The instructor may record online Zoom class sessions for the purposes of supporting student learning in this class – such as making the recording available for review of the session or for students who miss a session. Students will be advised before the instructor initiates a recording of a Zoom session. These recordings will be used to support student learning only and will not be shared or used for any other purpose.

Media Recording

The instructor will use pre-recorded media recordings for the delivery of lectures. These recordings are intended to be used for lecture capture only and may not be used for any other purpose.

For our live sessions, the recording device will not be used and will not be made available in any format.

Research Ethics

Students are advised that any research with human subjects – including any interviewing (even with friends and family), opinion polling, or unobtrusive observation – must have the approval of the Conjoint Faculties Research Ethics Board. In completing course requirements, students must not undertake any human subjects research without discussing their plans with the instructor, to determine if ethics approval is required.

Copyright Legislation

All students are required to read the University of Calgary policy on Acceptable Use of Material Protected by Copyright ( <https://www.ucalgary.ca/legal-services/sites/default/files/teams/1/Policies-Acceptable-Use-of-Material-Protected-by-Copyright-Policy.pdf> ) and requirements of the Copyright Act ( <https://laws-lois.justice.gc.ca/eng/acts/C-42/index.html> ) to ensure they are aware of the consequences of unauthorized sharing of course materials (including instructor notes, electronic versions of textbooks etc.). Students who use material protected by copyright in violation of this policy may be disciplined under the Non-Academic Misconduct Policy.

Instructor Intellectual Property

Course materials created by professor(s) (including course outlines, presentations and posted notes, labs, case studies, assignments and exams) remain the intellectual property of the professor(s). These materials may NOT be reproduced, redistributed or copied without the explicit consent of the professor. The posting of course materials to third party websites such as note-sharing sites without permission is prohibited. Sharing of extracts of these course materials with other students enrolled in the course at the same time may be allowed under fair dealing.

Recording of Lectures

The audio or video recording of lectures and taking screengrabs of PowerPoint slides during the lecture are not permitted without explicit authorization. The non-authorized media recording of lectures is inconsistent with the Code of Conduct and may result in discipline in accordance with the Student Non-Academic Misconduct Policy and Procedure.
