

How to Apply for Admission to a Major Field in the Bachelor of Music

At the end of your first year in the BMus program, you must apply for a Major Field of Specialization in which you will continue and graduate. Please read the 'Bachelor of Music (BMus) – Major Fields of Specialization' section for conditions of admission in the University Calendar, sections 4.13.11 to 4.13.15. If after consulting the Calendar you are uncertain about which area suits you best, you should consult with one of the faculty members.

Once you have decided on a Major, you will need to complete the 'Major Field of Specialization Declaration Form' and return it to the SCPA Office (CHD100), to Jennifer Perrott, no later than February 1. You must also go into your Student Centre and do a Change of Program. If you do not meet the requirements for the Major you selected, you will be notified by the Division Chair.

Admission to each Major is conditional on:

1. The completion of MUSI 211, 213, 221, 223, 225, and 255 with an average of "B-" (2.70) or better in those courses.
2. Grades of "B" (3.00) or better in courses in their area: Composition; or Performance.
3. Approval of the Division Chair.

How to declare your major as a Change of Program on your Student Centre:

1. Scroll to the bottom and under "Admissions" click Change of Program link
2. You will then see a table that looks like this (Note: the Instrument is an EXAMPLE)

Your Current Program is:

Program:	Bachelor's Degree in the Faculty of Arts	Change
Degree Stream:	Bachelor of Music	Change

3. Click the Change button beside major and select your major from the list.
